About Melissa King:

Melissa is the wife of an emergency room travel nurse and the mother of a sweet and smart little boy. This has been a great way to see our beautiful country, but it has also made it a necessity to save money, as they move often. Other hobbies besides sharing her love of couponing and helping others save money include: nature photography, exploring national parks, cooking, and volunteering.

Melissa has been featured in March and May 2012 of All You Magazine. She is also a Savings Deal Pro, Mom Ambassador and a She Heard Blogger!

Our Mission:

At This Mommy Saves Money we believe in paying it forward! Moms from around the country and Military bases overseas read Melissa's website to get the best deals, honest reviews, and advice on store deals, products, gifts, and so much more.

Advertising & Promotions:

If your company has a product that would be relevant for my readers, I am willing to host a review, and giveaway, including promoting it via my website, and social media outlets.

Advertising is also available depending on what you're looking for, please contact Melissa for more details on all promotions.
